

MUSCLE SHOALS PLANS OF FORD WILL BE SIFTED

Hapgood Favors Acceptance of His Terms to Insure Development.

By NORMAN HAPGOOD, Dr. Caro, the leading expert in Germany on getting nitrogen from the air, makes two points, in connection with Muscle Shoals, besides those mentioned several days ago.

He speaks of the nearly inexhaustible deposits of high per cent phosphate rock, and the consequent power of producing cheaply ammonium phosphate containing roughly 45 per cent of water soluble phosphoric acid and 20 per cent nitrogen.

Although the United States can herself use 130,000 tons per year, he thinks there will be a surplus for competition in foreign markets.

As to the Norwegian situation, he says:

"The economy with which nitrogen can be produced in the Norwegian cyanamid plants is of a similar order, but the situation is not quite so favorable as at Muscle Shoals."

Peace Aspect Uppermost. But the peace aspect of this Ford offer is of much more interest than the war aspect. Secretary Weeks has announced his intention of sending for Mr. Ford, and it now seems safe to assume that the momentous decision will not be made in the dark, but will receive adequate public attention.

Although I favor the Ford contract, I do it only because our people do not seem to have developed to a stage where they will undertake through a Government department what is essentially a Government function.

Mr. Ford, apart from his one crime in stirring up race hatred, has been a good citizen. He is not in the class of rich men who have made their fortunes by combinations, by jugglings, by banker management. He has no watered securities, and he is not sitting around howling for protection like some of our most bloated monopolies; he is not howling about the inefficiency of labor; he goes ahead and does his work and makes his money creatively.

Too Big For Democracy. Ford is a danger only in one respect. He is too big, too powerful, for a democracy. Democracies do not need benevolent despots. They ought not to have kings.

But our people do not agree with me in this objection to mere size, to excess of power, and certainly they will not pick out Ford, the best of the monarchs, to limit, while allowing the predatory ones to flourish and to furnish us with such unemployment, as we see at present.

If we leave out this deep question of size and power, as one to which we are not educated, and one to which we shall come only after many sad experiences, then it ought to be a simple matter to draw a contract with Ford.

The price he is to pay cannot be based on former wages or extravagances. He should be made to pay what the property is worth now, not what it has been made to cost.

And even the most difficult question, the length of the lease, can be worked out. The important thing is that the Government shall be able to recapture the property whenever it may wish to do so, on terms fair to Ford.

Must Settle Details. With water power developments sure to be the big industrial fact of the next twenty-five or fifty years, it is impossible to say when the Government may wish to join up, or to control the joining up of, this great source of power with some general system, such as the trunk line now being studied from the St. Lawrence to the industrial field of the South.

But if the Government's power of recapture is preserved the advantages of having the pioneer work in the hands of a constructive genius like Ford are obvious. In a more civilized era no doubt such a man will be in the service of the whole people, not piling up a too unwieldy fortune and too extended power for his son.

Taking the world as we find it, the following are the outstanding facts:

This source of power and of fertility is needed.

Congress has voted it shall not be operated by the Government.

Ford is the ablest man in the country to do the work well, and the only real bidder.

Therefore it becomes a mere matter of having the details discussed publicly and settled fairly.

We have progressed a good deal further toward that outcome than we had two weeks ago.

IT SEEMS WE'RE ABOUT TO AGREE WITH THE JAPANESE NATION ON WHO OWNS THE ISLAND OF YAP! OH, THE ISLAND OF YAP, THE ISLAND OF YAP! CAN ANYONE TELL WHERE IT IS, ON THE MAP? NEVER MIND, WE'RE SO GLAD WE COULD TURN A FLIP FLAP, NOW WE'RE FREED FROM SUSPENSE 'BOUT THE ISLAND OF YAP!

CASHIER GETS PAROLED IN FACE OF PROTESTS

BRISTOL, Va., Tenn., Sept. 10.—Cabel Scott, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank, of Bristol, was released a few days ago from a Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after serving two years for embezzling $52,000 from the bank.

His release came in the face of vigorous protests filed with Attorney-General Daugherty by the officials of the bank, after it had been announced by the Department of Justice that the order for Scott's parole had been signed.

EASY WAR-TIME MONEY BOUGHT MANY AUTOS

Where some of the money of war days went is indicated in the industrial census for the year 1919. The value of automobiles manufactured in 1914 is reported as $503,230,000. In 1919, with only fifteen more factories than engaged in the industry in the earlier twelve-month period, the value of the nation's automobile output jumped to $2,387,833,000.

ITALIANS TO OBSERVE DANTE ANNIVERSARY

Embassy Members Will Attend Exercises in Carroll Hall This Evening.

Elaborate memorial exercises, marking the 600th anniversary of the death of Dante, the Italian poet, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at Carroll Hall, under the auspices of the Italian Catholic Society of the Holy Rosary Church.

Members of the Italian embassy will attend the exercises in a body, and addresses will be made by Prof. H. G. Doyle, of George Washington University; Dr. A. Palmieri, and M. Strizz. Music will be furnished by the Boys' Band of the Holy Rosary Parish, under the direction of Prof. Jacques L. Vanoucke.

A tableau, depicting the first meeting of Dante with the beautiful Florentine maid, who was the main inspiration of the great poet, will be given by the young women of the Holy Rosary Church.

The committee on arrangements is composed of M. Strizz, chairman; G. Balducci, M. Bello, G. Giuffrè, and B. J. Balducci.

WASHINGTON EAGLES PLAN PURCHASE OF NEW HOME

Purchase of a new home for Washington Aerie, Order of Eagles, is being planned today. First steps toward locating the new site were discussed at a meeting Thursday night.

The only drawback developed during the evening's discussion was the purchasing condition of the real estate business at present. Members are looking for a suitable location.

Worthy President Reinhart, who represented the aerie recently at the session of the Grand Aerie in Newark, N. J., presided Thursday night. During the past two weeks a number of new members have been secured, and it is thought that purchase of the new home will practically double the membership.

A Serious Matter

—Easily Settled

To save yourself from buying a "twelve-dollar style" in a six-dollar quality, remember that a shoe is only good if it's made good; and you don't really feel sure of worth unless you buy a good name. Therefore seek a name that stands for style with quality, and for value on which maker and merchant stake their reputations.

Dorothy Dodd shoes have been preeminently good for over twenty years; and value considered, they are better than ever today.
